early years, reimagined

The first five years are the most crucial period of any child's life. And yet, the world over, nurseries and preschools rely on 20th century teaching and technology to prepare children for the 21st century.

At Kido, we've set out to change that, and bring advances in pedagogy, design and technology to create the highest quality nurseries and preschools anywhere.

Across the world, and here in the heart of Waterloo, we're creating magical spaces for children to play, learn, grow and thrive. Reach out to us and your dedicated nursery manager will take you on a tour of a magical learning journey for your child.

"She also regularly brings home some very beautiful artwork. As parents, we feel that the team of St Patrick's is on top of everything."

Emeline L
Parent, Kido

"This is a fabulous nursery, the staff are amazing, very caring and supportive and plan great activities tailored to the children."

by parents, for parents

We are owned and operated by a group of parents from all over the world. We were set up in response to our founders' struggles as young parents in different cities around the world. So, since our first school in Hong Kong in 2014, we've been obsessed with two things: improving learning outcomes for children, and our service to parents.

To meet our twin objectives, we've invested significantly in people, technology and systems on every aspect of a nursery operation - recruitment, training, curriculum, operations, observations and assessments, parent communication and much more.

We've served thousands of families in places as diverse as the USA, the UK, the UAE, India and China. Being international, we incorporate best practices from around the world.

nursery, meet the future

We are on a mission to build the best early learning spaces in the world. According to the Reggio Emilia approach to early education, the environment is considered the third educator. With that in mind, we've created some of the most stimulating preschools and nurseries in the world. No location can ever be too beautiful for our children.

Our school design goes hand in hand with our pedagogy. Every area is set up to aid the learning journey of each child. Furniture and resources are curated from the best providers in the world. Our technology platform allows teachers to spend more time on the children and less on administration. We use technology as a tool to improve the experience of both children and parents.

"My son was able to form a really meaningful attachment to his key worker, which left me in peace knowing that if he were ever upset or in need of anything, he would have her to rely on."

Maria G
Parent, St Patrick's

"A very welcoming nursery where kids are really happy! The staff are amazing, very friendly, human and professional. My son loves going to nursery, never cries and seems always very happy to go."

Our Pedagogy

early years, reimagined

We believe that a combination of free and structured play, an engaging and interactive learning environment, and an abundance of love, care and attention provide the most solid foundation for children in the early years.

The Kido Early Years Program draws best practices from leading philosophies from around the world, such as Montessori, Reggio Emilia and the theory of Multiple Intelligences. It is developed in house and supported by a world renowned panel of advisors. Our pedagogical leadership team has over 200 years of combined experience in early years teaching, research and pedagogy across more than ten countries, and in multiple languages. We modify our program for each country that we operate in, to adhere to national curriculum framework.

"The teachers and the management team are meticulous with the care plan towards the children and provide a wonderful experience for the parent and the child."

Khadijah B
Parent, St Patrick's

“St Patrick’s is a lovely, caring place for your child and the staff really do go the extra mile to settle your child, welcome you as a parent and keep you updated on their progress.”

R B
Parent, Kido St Patrick's

“Their garden is superb as well. They organise a lot of activities for the children and have very nice initiatives.”

listen, learn, lead

Happy teachers make happy children. We've gone to great lengths to ensure that our people are the most highly trained, motivated and engaged anywhere. Heavy investments in recruitment ensure that your child is taught by the best. Our local and international training and development programs are intensive, and ongoing. Leading experts from around the world run 'Master Classes' to ensure that our people are always a step ahead. Teachers have access to their peers from across the world in real time, so they can bring best practices from any classroom in the world to their own. Above all, we have perhaps the best benefits for our people in the industry, including discounted childcare for all Kido people as well as dedicated people trainers working alongside our teams to provide continuous professional development and on the job training and support.

"The staff are friendly and qualified. They seem to really care about the children."

Marlon L
Parent, Kido

“Kido is an excellent nursery, our son settled well and is really happy there. Great to get the regular updates through the app, including observations and pictures. It's lovely seeing what he's been up to!”

always at your fingertips

The Kido Parent App keeps you in touch with the nursery in real time. You can track your child's progress, their 'wow' moments, and message the nursery in a secure manner through the app. New features are added continuously to keep enhancing the parent experience.

Your nursery manager is on hand to help with any enquiries, arrangements or questions. Our partnership with and service to parents is core to Kido, and we're dedicated to try and meet all your needs!

"Very friendly staff. My daughter is happy to go there and has lots of fun. The food is great and we have an app where you can track what your child is up to."
